
2019 Pure Michigan Aerospace Summit

Wednesday, April 10, 2019

Ford Field 2000 Brush Street, Detroit, MI 48226 United States

SAVE THE DATE! Pure Michigan Business Connect will host the second annual Aerospace Summit on April 10th in Downtown Detroit at Ford Field. Continuing on the success of the previous year, this event is focused on bringing purchasing demand to the supply base here in Michigan. Our team will be working with procurement teams from some of the largest aerospace manufacturers in the world to uncover current and future opportunities for our in-state suppliers of the aerospace industry. This one day, invitation only event will feature keynote speakers giving remarks about the state of the industry here in Michigan and the global impact of our manufacturing base. Pre-scheduled 1:1 meetings between in-state suppliers and these purchasing teams will be the highlight of the event, as we connect demand to supply in 20 minute increments. Suppliers interested in attending the event, or submitting their application to meet with these purchasing groups will have the ability to explain why their company fits the specific commodity and how they can help meet that purchasing group's need. For interested purchasers, completing the needs assessment link below will allow our team to canvass the state's supply base and help identify and recommend new suppliers to meet with.
